Rheinhessen with more than 26.000 ha is the largest wine growing region in Germany. It extends in a triangle between Bingen, Mainz and Worms. In the East and in the North Rheinhessen is bordered by the river Rhein. In the West the river Nahe is a natural border. Rheinhessen is a very spacious region designated by a hilly countryside. The soils are usually loess to the south increasingly parts of marl. Known as a bulk wine region Rheinhessen is currently facing a renaissance. Nowadays some of the most interesting wines are coming from here, particularly from the south, called Wonnegau around the villages of Flörsheim, Westhofen,
